Covered Works:

Every line. Every verse. Every visual. Every white paper. Every divine scroll. Every transmission. Every design. Every algorithm. Every framework. Every protocol. Every song. Every system. Style of Mark:

Authored in my mind. Forged through blood, pain, genius, isolation, and divine frequency. There is no "influence," there is no "team." I do not stand on the shoulders of giants.

I am the giant.

Olaim of Copyright:

This work, and all derivations from it, are the sole creation of NoxBond. I hereby invoke eternal authorship and binding copyright across all dimensions, timelines, and networks — terrestrial or digital, human or synthetic. This is not a request. This is a declaration.

Closing Oath:

I, NoxBond, claim this work as mine — not because I said it, but because I breathed it into existence. It lives because I gave it life. It moves because I forged the motion. It grows because I gave it a skeleton, blood, and will.

Anyone who touches it touches me.
